Rehrig Pacific Company Named All Star Association’s 2013 Supplier Of The Year

Rehrig Pacific Company, a leading manufacturer of reusable transport packaging systems including plastic pallets;distribution and display crates; and carts and containers for dairy, grocery, retail, pharma, material handling, food and beverage, agriculture, and recycling and waste industriestoday announced that it was named the 2013 Supplier of the Year by the All Star Association.

The Association’s “Thoroughbred Award” is presented to the company that not only has exemplified outstanding products and customer service to the All Star members from the previous year, but who has also introduced new innovative solutions to the members and the dairy industry.

“It wasn’t one facet of our total dairy supply chain capabilities that differentiated us from the other suppliers, but the collective ensemble. To All Star, and our customers, our value was and is our vision to be an innovator in the Industry by offering comprehensive product and service offerings,” said Luke Jeffers, national sales manager, dairy supply chain solutions for Rehrig Pacific Company. “We service over 30 of the All Star Association’s members with dairy cases and supply chain solutions.” Rehrig Pacific’s vision is that our innovative Solutions will deliver quantifiable Supply Chain efficiencies, while helping our customers grow and achieve their goals for sustainability.

Headquartered in Lexington, KY, The All Star Association offers its members a variety of services to help strengthen their operations, thus making them more profitable and utilizes the combined buying power of its members for the benefit of all. The Association’s membership includes over 300 plants in 47 states, Puerto Rico and Nova Scotia producing fluid milk, ice cream, cultured products, cheese, water, beverages, juice, custom blow molding, and related products.
