

Capsa Acquires Artromick Mobile Solutions

Capsa Solutions, a leading provider of storage, processing and transport products, has announced the acquisition of Artromick Mobile Solutions Group and their comprehensive line of medication, medical and mobile computing carts. Artromick Mobile Solutions Group was previously owned by Sterling Partners, a Chicago and Baltimore-based private equity firm.

Capsa currently services the needs for their healthcare, retail, and light manufacturing customers with MMI Med Carts and IRSG product lines. The addition of Artomick widens their product offerings and offers customers more options.

“Artromick has a history of integrating superior design with the latest technology features to improve the efficiency of caregivers at the point of care,” said Capsa Solutions CEO Dave Burns. “The addition of Artromick to the Capsa Solutions family is an absolute win for our healthcare partners. Our spectrum of cart, storage, and mobility solutions fill needs for most any healthcare application.”

According to the company, the combined product lines of Artromick, MMI Med Carts and IRSG allow for coverage of nearly every room in an acute or long-term healthcare facility. Included in the product portfolio are carts for point of care computing, medication control, anesthesia, malignant hyperthermia and transport.
