

Colorado Surgeon Accused Of Botching Procedures

Fox News

The Colorado Medical Board hopes to know in May when a judge will hear its complaint against a Denver surgeon, FOX 31 reported.

Dr. Warren Kortz faces 14 counts of unprofessional conduct in connection with a series of failed surgeries from 2008 to 2010.

According to the complaint, the operations at Porter Adventist Hospital, using a device called the DaVinci robot, utilized improper procedures and resulted in torn aortas, a sponge left inside one patient and assorted other problems. The complaint cites the cases of 11 separate patients.

Continue reading... [1]

Source URL (retrieved on 02/27/2015 - 1:10am):

<http://www.surgicalproductsmag.com/news/2013/04/colorado-surgeon-accused-botching-procedures>

Links:

[1] <http://www.foxnews.com/health/2013/04/12/colorado-surgeon-accused-botching-procedures/>