

Nerve Repair Device

The Neurotube[®] is an absorbable woven polyglycolic acid mesh tube designed for primary or secondary peripheral nerve repair or reconstruction. The tube replaces classic nerve graft techniques for repair of nerve gaps more than or equal to 8.0 mm, but less than or equal to 30 mm. The walls of the Neurotube are corrugated for strength and flexibility. The device is resorbed through the process of hydrolysis and comes in three sizes.

Source URL (retrieved on 02/01/2015 - 4:12pm):

http://www.surgicalproductsmag.com/product-releases/2005/04/nerve-repair-device?qt-recent_videos=0&qt-recent_content=0