

Point-Of-Care Imaging System

The Niris Imaging System provides clinicians with real-time, high spatial resolution, two-dimensional, cross-sectional depth visualization of normal and abnormal tissue microstructures. The compact, point-of-care system creates images utilizing harmless near infrared light. The spatial resolution of the system is on the order of 0.01 mm, surpassing conventional ultrasound imaging by an order of magnitude.

Source URL (retrieved on 01/31/2015 - 4:20pm):

<http://www.surgicalproductsmag.com/product-releases/2006/04/point-care-imaging-system>