

RFID Material Management System

Scan Modul System has introduced a new RFID solution based on its NoCount[®] system, which is not dependent on supplier compliance. This RFID solution only requires only one RFID transmitter per physical location, not a transmitter for each item. This means that the RFID solution will work with any item in stock and is not dependent on whether or not RFID has been integrated into a particular product. A simplified basket system integrates with the RFID for a more cost effective system than traditional platforms that use costly labeling.
