

Radiation Treatment Table

The Mobetron Operating Table is custom-designed to allow doctors to administer care in the most effective way possible with the Mobetron device. Used in conjunction with the Mobetron (a fully portable, self-shielding unit that delivers high doses of intraoperative electron-beam radiation therapy directly to affected tissue during cancer surgery), the Mobetron Operating Table is fully flexible and is specifically crafted to enable the patient to be ideally positioned for radiation treatment. Hospitals can wheel both the Mobetron and the operating table between existing operating rooms without investing in costly renovations to accommodate traditional radiation therapy devices.
