

Deflectable Video Laparoscope

The LTF-VH deflectable HD video laparoscope represents a significant breakthrough in imaging quality by upgrading the distally mounted video chip to HD and combining it with an advanced flexible tip design. This provides a complete 100-degree field of view from multiple angles to visually capture the desired location head-on, from above or even from behind. The advanced flexible tip also eliminates the need to change between zero-degree and 30-degree scopes intraoperatively. Additional features include autoclave compatibility, auto focus and minimal fogging.
