Safety-Med now offers an expanded line of apparel to help protect medical personnel against the MRSA virus. The Pro-Med™ apparel line now features the innovative PEPP™ material, which incorporates an impervious layer of material for protection, combined with a soft, conforming inner layer of material for comfort and flexibility. This unique combination of materials allows the wearer to work with optimal protection, while maintaining comfort for extended periods of time. This product line is also available in an uncoated, fluid-resistant version with elastic or knit cuffs. Available in sizes from Universal to 4XL, this apparel line will accommodate the majority of personnel needs.
