

Ultrasound Probe Drapes

Spectrum Laboratories, Inc., OR Disposables produces Ultrasound Probe Drapes (Elfex) with attached straps for clinician convenience and greater sterile integrity. According to the company, these straps make application quicker and easier by pulling and rolling on with a one-handed technique. The drape's improved safety design reduces the risk of glove contamination. According to the company, additional features include:

- A seamless, tapered end that eliminates interference with ultrasonic transmission.
- Measurements of 8" x 55", pre-rolled.
- A one-piece design made from soft, clear anti-stat material that will not obstruct view.
