STRIP-T'S

Kapp Surgical Instruments

Self-adhesive STRIP-T'S from Kapp Surgical Instruments are designed to organize all surgical tubes, scopes, and instruments attaching any place on the surgical field. According to the company, STRIP-T'S is the least expensive apparatus to secure implements to the surgical field and is less expensive than tape, pouches, or drapes. The STRIP-T'S reduces the cost of replacing tubes, costly disposable suctions, surgical operative scopes, and bovies, which tend to fall from the operative field, rendering them unsterile. They are latex-free, versatile, and have a sterile shelf life of two years.
