

Temperature Control For Critically Ill Patients

The Arctic Sun from Medivance controls the temperature of the water circulating through the ArcticGel Pads via a patient/temperature feedback loop. The patient can be cooled or kept normothermic as the pads transfer heat from patient—without posing the risk of DVT, insertion site bleeding or infection associated with catheters.

Source URL (retrieved on 02/01/2015 - 7:20pm):

<http://www.surgicalproductsmag.com/videos/2009/12/temperature-control-critically-ill-patients>