

Another Dancing Breast Cancer Surgery Patient

Doreta Norris, 52, was diagnosed with breast cancer in November 2013. While at the airport to visit her mother-in-law, Norris saw video of a woman dancing in the operating room before a double mastectomy. That video inspired Norris to dance her cancer away as well. Norris danced with doctors and nurses to "Gangnam Style" as she made her way to the operating room for her own double mastectomy procedure.
